

The Bedroom of Carolina Borromeo and Giuseppe

detta "Camera Rossa"

Here we are, now, in the bedroom of Giuseppe and Carolina. There are small pieces of furniture meant for kids. In fact, Giuseppe and Carolina had...five!

There is a baby walker, that the family's kids used to learn how to walk. There's also a high chair and a cradle and a little bed.

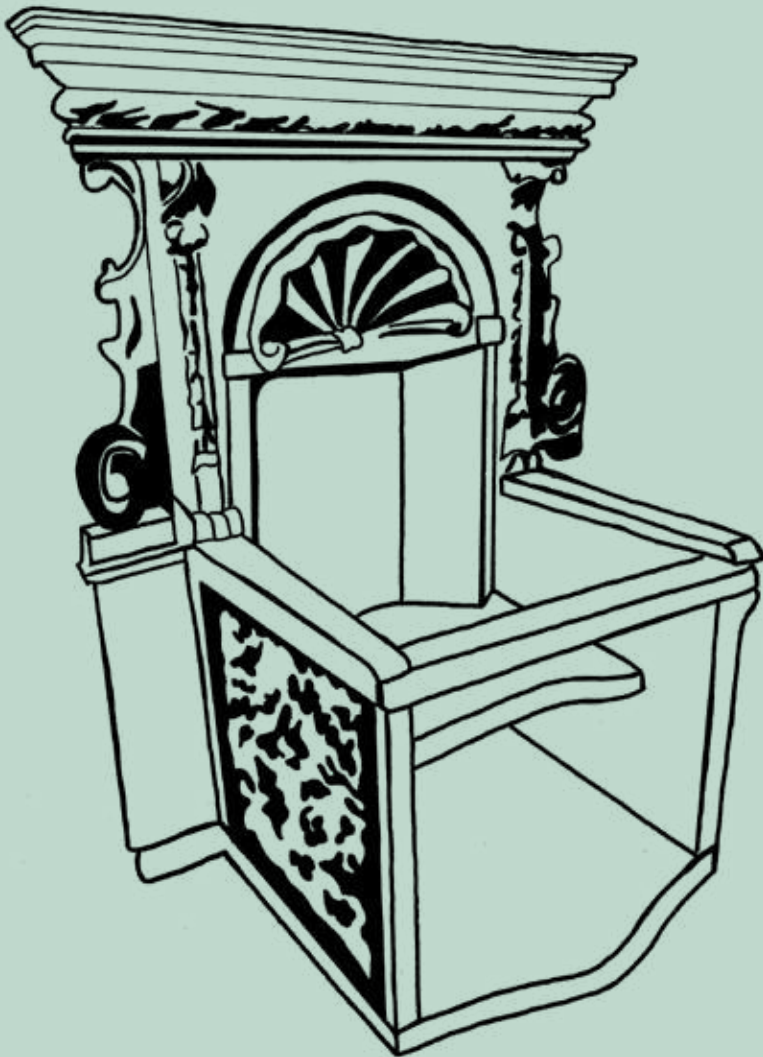

Look at this beautiful bed. Do you know how to call the part in fabric that is over the bed? Years ago, the bed also had curtains at its sides. You'll see bed curtains like this in the next room.

There's also a little chair with a hole in the seat.

A little bowl goes under it.
Basically, it's a great-great grandpa of a toilet!
